

Play with words

Friday, 06 November 2015 20:38 - Last Updated Tuesday, 10 November 2015 13:29

The day is November 5, and at the High school, Ivan Vazov "-Sopot the main motto of the day is „WRITTEN REMAINS. WRITE CORRECTLY ". Bulgarian language classes were organized in an unusual way. A team from the Institute of Bulgarian Language "Lubomir Andreychin" had a role in teaching students from 2nd to 7th class with three lessons. The non-traditional classes are used as a means of promoting literacy and language culture among children.

At the beginning of a lesson "Play with words", students got acquainted with the dialect division of Bulgarian language and they had to revise a story " The bishop and slicker". Then students formed two teams, and they competed in six categories - homophones, foreign words, idioms, synonyms / antonyms, spelling and grammar. Every competition ended with certificates and prizes. Through educational games, new teachers examined the audience. Students got awards as T-shirts, stickers and cards instead of excellent marks.

Congratulations on a superb performance of students and especially on their Bulgarian language teachers.

Play with words

Friday, 06 November 2015 20:38 - Last Updated Tuesday, 10 November 2015 13:29

Many thanks to prof. dr. Stelka Kovač and her team - samostoyatelno-mislene/