

At the last days of October, just before the November 1, the 2A and 2B class students took part in a lesson of patriotism at the Radino School, organized by the Ivan Vazov-Sopot House Museum. At the school library, five-graders and six-graders enriched their knowledge of the National Revival Teachers by the help of Mr. Peter Berliev.

On the Day of the People's Buddhists, the "Young Journalist" Club held a lesson on "The Educational Work during the Renaissance". In the authentic setting of the Radinoto School, students from Ivan Vazov Secondary school, parents and citizens returned to the glorious age of the Renaissance. The ceremony celebrations ended with bringing wreaths in front of the school.

Bless you, folk allies!
